The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Donohue in a bower of Killarney roses. Elsewhere about the house were quantities of roses and pink carnations.

PINEHURST

Mr. and Mrs. Redfield Entertain with Bridge Tea.

Pinehurst, N. C., Feb. 12.—Numerous affairs are contributing to the pleasure of early midseason, and none has been more delightful than a Lincoln's Birthday anniversary bridge tea at the winter home of Mr. and Mrs. Tyler L. Redfield, of Greenwich, Mrs. Charles B. Hudson, of New Suffolk, entertained at the Dogwood, and T. W. Case, of New York, was host at a merry gun club supper.

In the open golf, tennis, trap and quail shooting, riding, driving, motor and fox hunting all claim their devotees, and perfect days are contributing to the pleasure of all.

Nutting, of Brooklyn, for years one of the most extensive entertainers coming down, would arrive in a few days. The colonel has been away four seasons. Joseph H. SUNNY AND MERRY DAYS AT THE FAR-FAMED PALM BEACH

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 12.—The town for the first time this season has hit the pace which has made the resort famous. There was a continuous round of entertaining, so much going on at the resort it was like a three-ring circus, the audience for which was not to miss something, no matter how fast it jerked its head from one attraction to another. While tales of slush and storm came from the North, the weather is wonderfully fine here—a little cooler than usual and bracing for golf and tennis and dancing, the latter being indulged in literally all hours of the day. A thousand people have been gathering daily at the Breakers, concert just after the morning bathing hour, at which the dance is the feature. The same number have been dancing during the sunset hour nightly in the Poinciana coconut grove, and dancing after dinner both in the Beach Club and the Palm Room until late.

Mrs. Henry M. Flagler, who has not been here since Mr. Flagler's death, two years ago, arrived this week and is occupying one of the cottages of the estate on the ocean front instead of opening White Hall, the Flagler villa, which is one of the finest in the country, and has not been occupied since Mr. and Mrs. Flagler left it.

The rather unusual circumstance of a bride and bridegroom on their honeymoon at Palm Beach accompanied by the bride's debutante daughter was noted at the Breakers recently with the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Padesford and Miss M. Bigelow, the latter's daughter by her former marriage. The wedding occurred recently in Washington.

Hermann Oelrichs came a few days ago with John Rutherford, but they left almost immediately for Jacksonville, where they had bought a yacht, and are said to be sailing the boat back, with Mrs. Rutherford, who joined them at Jacksonville. Another new yacht here soon will be Payne Whitney's boat, which he ordered last summer when he disposed of the Ruffhouse, and in which he expects to leave New York on February 15 with Lawrence Waterbury. Reginald Brooks and Herbert Harrison have Mr. Whitney's old boat, in which he has entertained here a great deal, and are fishing with her off Miami, but will come to Palm Beach about March 1. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dodge have made reservations for before that time, as have Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Lewison, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sheppard, Mrs. E. H. T. Slater, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mortimer and Mrs. H. Whitney McVicker and the latter's mother, Mrs. Robbins.

BELLEAIR

Many Well Known Persons Register at the Belleview.

Belleair, Fla., Feb. 12.—A new phase of Southern travel has been opened to Florida this season. The people who ordinarily made a flitting visit of two or three weeks to the east coast are spending the whole winter touring the South in automobiles and private cars. At Belleair there are now 400 Northern visitors who will remain far into March. Bits of conversation heard here and there throw an illuminating light on the American habit of always having gone abroad until this year.

George W. Elkins, of Elkins Park, and his family are annual travellers abroad who this season are spending several weeks at Belleair. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Converse, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Albro are frequent European travellers who are here at the Belleview for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton F. Plant arrived on Friday of last week in their private car and are spending much of their time motoring to the nearby Florida resorts.

Saturday afternoon Sir Thomas Tait, Lady Tait and Miss Tait left Belleair for Havana. Later they will return to Florida. Sir Thomas and Lady Tait have been among the most hospitable entertainers at the Belleview, and on the evening before they left gave a very pretty dinner to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Baggott, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Meldrum, who are touring Florida in their private car, left Belleair this latter part of the week for Southern Florida.

Thomas Cole, the large mine owner, of Duluth, has gone on to Chicago on a business trip and will return next week to Belleair.

Francis Wilson has every appearance of having a good time at Belleair. He goes golfing and dancing evenings with so much enthusiasm that one is sure that he has forgotten Broadway and every play that he ever made a success with his clever acting.

The bachelors and temporarily untached men whose wives have not yet arrived at Belleair are among the most genial hosts at the Belleview. R. Webster Harvey, of Philadelphia, entertained several of his men friends at dinner one evening this last week. At this jolly dinner were Douglas Smith, of Chicago; Dr. C. H. Gardner, of Providence; J. H. Bispham, of Philadelphia, and C. G. Palmer, of New York.

TOURNEYS AND TEAS REIGN AT QUAIN ST. AUGUSTINE

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 12.—Winter residents of the Ancient City continue to enjoy a daily round of dinners, dances, teas and tournaments. Out of door life shares honors with the daily dances in the grill, which seem to be the afternoon climax for golfers.

Each season St. Augustine proves a rendezvous for interesting retired army and navy officers and their wives, while several widows of former army and navy heroes winter here. Major General John R. Brooke and Mrs. Brooke are annual patrons at the Alcazar, General Brooke having been made a general at the age of twenty-seven by General Grant. Another interesting member of the army coterie is Brigadier General Martin Hardin, who with Mrs. Hardin occupies Villa Scotland and entertains delightfully.

Admiral George F. Winslow and Mrs. Winslow, of Boston, are popular guests at the Alcazar, while Colonel Otto Hein and Mrs. Hein, of Rochester, are making their home at the Valencia. General Harbach and Mrs. Harbach, of Washington, are here, also Admiral Grinnell, of the Japanese Navy. Colonel Wolf and Mrs. Wolf, of Washington, and Colonel Lundeen and Mrs. Lundeen, of New Jersey, are of the St. Augustine colony. Captain J. H. Lyman and Mrs. Lyman, of New York, are annual patrons, prominent among the Ponce de Leon guests. General William Wherry, of Chicago, winters at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert N. Dickman. Captain Henry Marcotte and Mrs. Marcotte have an interesting home, well known for its hospitality. Mrs. Elmer Otis, widow of General Otis, is here for the season, as is Mrs. Fessenden, widow of an artillery officer.

At Monday afternoon's dance in the Ponce de Leon ballroom the dancers included Miss Adel Duncan, Miss M. L. Chadwick, Miss Katharine Jones, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Denman, Mrs. J. D. MacLennan, Mrs. William Strowbridge, Mrs. George Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Prouty, Alfred L. Lottimer, Willoughby Wilfred, Roy York, Townsend Martin, Corwin Goddard, W. Jennings Ormond and W. A. Knight.

A dancing class under the direction of Mrs. W. Glandine Smith and W. Jennings Ormond, of New York, has been arranged among the Ponce de Leon guests, and will be an event of every Tuesday evening. The first proved a great success.

The Wednesday evening dances at the Alcazar, with numerous supper parties following, are more than galas among the resorters.

Recent registrations at the New Greenbrier include Mrs. Frances Gage, Mrs. Conde Raguet Thorn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sisson and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Jenkins, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Duker and Percy B. McLane, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. G. P. O'Shaunessy, of Providence; Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Davis, of Elizabeth, N. J.; Thomas H. Powers, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wentz, of Norristown, Penn.; Mrs. M. Beckwith and Mrs. M. P. Beckwith, of Garrison; E. N. Price, of Pittsburgh; the Misses Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hutchins, of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Taplin, of Cleveland; G. T. Chapman,

Mr. and Mrs. John C. King, John Bradley Kitchen and a number of others will come with the Palm Beach crowd early next month.

William Penn Cresson, Charge d'Affaires at Panama, who has been taking his semi-annual cure here, was among those who this week entertained at the Log Cabin, where old Virginia luncheons, teas and suppers and game affairs continue to draw the crowd.

COURTS AND LINKS BUSY AT AIKEN.

Aiken, S. C., Feb. 12.—The annual shoot at the Aiken Gun Club and the court tennis tournaments at the Aiken Club, several informal tournaments at the Palmetto Golf Club and the Highland Park Golf Club this week divided interest with the dances at the New Highland Park Hotel, the daily afternoon teas at the Palmetto Golf Club and a series of dinners, luncheons and teas at Wilcox's and in the colony where there have been many visitors.

From now on the season will be very gay and Aiken promises to eclipse even the Aiken of a decade ago, when it was at the zenith of its fame as a winter resort.

The new hotel has brought in many visitors, friends of the cottagers, who do not care to be bothered with the details of looking after a winter home here, and so far the throng has been double that at the same time last year.

The first tea of the season at the Palmetto Golf Club brought out a big throng of winter visitors. As has been the custom since the teas were first inaugurated here twenty-one years ago, Miss Celestine Eustis, one of the pioneer visitors, was the first hostess of the season. Mrs. Josef Hoffman, who poured, was assisted by Miss Sophia Mott, and some of those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Sargent Thompson, Mrs. Frederick H. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin, Mrs. Arthur Iselin, Frank R. Hitchcock, Thomas Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Doan, Dr. and Mrs. Alexander M. W. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford A. Gowan, Mrs. Le Grand G. Griswold, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sampson Sumner, Ernest A. Thomson, Archibald Thomson, William H. Sands, Mr. and Mrs. Josiah C. Shaw, George Singer, George I. Scott, Miss Mimi Scott, Mrs. F. W. Livermore, Mrs. Henry Rogers Winthrop, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Norman, Maxwell Norman, George V. Meyer, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bok, John Magee, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Montagne, Misses Gertrude and Beatrice de Coppet, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Brown, Mr. and Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark, Miss M. S. Ames, F. L. V. Hopkin and Amory G. Hodges.

Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin was the second hostess of the season, and others who included Mrs. Alexander M. Biddle and Mrs. George Bird.

Colonel and Mrs. Anthony Kase offered cups this week for a grand tournament, a handicap mixed foursomes competition, when eight contestants went to the seventeenth and eighteenth greens. Mrs. Gouverneur Morris and Oliver Perrin, who won the prize.
